How to Use Daily Language Review

This book is divided into 36 weekly sections. Each weekly unit provides daily assessment activities.

Monday through Thursday

- Students edit sentences and make corrections to punctuation, capitalization, and grammar.
- Students complete items that practice a variety of language and reading skills.

Friday

- Students focus on practicing a single skill.
- Students complete a daily progress record that tracks their work for the week.

Hints and Suggestions

Customize the daily review lessons to meet the needs of your class.

- Look ahead each week at the skills being practiced. If you encounter a new skill, complete the item as a class.
- Correct students' work together to model the correct responses.
- As skills are repeated throughout the year, monitor students' mastery.

Adjectives can be used to make comparisons.

• Add –er to an adjective to compare two people, places, or things. Adjectives with –er are called comparative adjectives.

The Grand Canyon is deeper than Glen Canyon.

• Add -est to an adjective to compare three or more people, places, or things. Adjectives with -est are called superlative adjectives.

The canyon is the deepest I have seen.

Read each sentence. Circle the correct form of the adjective to complete the sentence.

1. The part of the Atlantic is the Puerto Rico Trench.	deeper	deepest
2. The Atlantic Ocean is the second of the oceans.	younger	youngest
3. The part of both oceans is near the equator.	warmer	warmest
4. The leatherback turtle dives than penguins.	deeper	deepest
5. Many people think dolphins are the ocean animals.	smarter	smartest
6. The swordfish swims than sharks.	faster	fastest
7. The sea horse is than the eel.	slower	slowest
8. The blue whale is the animal in the ocean.	louder	loudest
9. The gray whale has the migration of all the whales.	longer	longest
10. The ice in Antarctica is than the ice in the Arctic.	thicker	thickest

Comparative adjectives use –er to compare two people, places, or things.

A village is smaller than a city.

Superlative adjectives use -est to compare three or more people, places, or things.

They are the richest family in town.

Add -er or -est to the correct adjective from the word box to complete each sentence.

fast high clean long deep hard near warm tall soon

Proofread this paragraph. Find the 10 errors, cross them out, and write the words correctly above them.

My mother's family comes from China, so last summer, my parents, my littleest sister, and I went to China. We wanted to visit our chinese relatives. We landed in Hong Kong, where more of them live. Hong Kong is a biggest city with many more people than San Francisco, where my family lives. Hong Kong is the most big city I've ever visited. We were able to buy many things for very little money, since american prices are much high than Hong Kong prices. Auntie Mu Tan and Uncle Gim live on the Kowloon Peninsula in an area called Yau Ma Tei. Auntie Mu Tan says that's where the better shops are. I found a japanese doll there that I wanted to buy, but my aunt said I should buy something that I could find only in Hong Kong. I ended up buying the prettyest Chinese silk dress I'd ever seen, and it was made by one of the women in the shops near my aunt and uncle's house.
